7. The curricula vitae of the candidates follow.

Corazon Alma G. de Leon (Philippines)

Corazon Alma G. de Leon's 33-year career in the public service is a fine example of the merit-and-fitness principle at work.

A Career Executive Service Officer (CESO) with Rank I, she started out as a Community Welfare Supervisor in the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) in 1966. Twenty-seven years later, in September 1993, she became the DSWD Secretary, capping a steady career rise which saw her hold such positions as Social Welfare Specialist, Acting Bureau Assistant Director, Regional Director, Assistant Secretary and Under-Secretary.

Her stint with DSWD was cut short when President Fidel V. Ramos appointed her as Chairman of the Civil Service Commission, one of the independent constitutional commissions in the Philippine Government set-up. In that position, which incidentally made her the ex-officio Chairman of the Career Executive Service Board, Chairman de Leon finds herself responsible for the entire personnel administration system covering 1.3 million civilian government employees.

Her tenure as CSC Chairman has so far been marked by a continuing drive to instil professionalism at all levels and ranks of the public service, complemented by steady infusion of a much-welcome humanist dimension in personnel administration policy to ensure en energized bureaucracy.

Chairman de Leon's skills and expertise in the handling of people and organizations are widely recognized, here and abroad. Shortly after taking over the helm of CSC, she was elected as member to the prestigious International Civil Service Commission of the United Nations, enjoying a term of office until 2000. But she is not stranger to such honour, for even before, she had already headed official Philippine delegations to various international conferences on social work and social development, public administration, population, health and welfare issues, gender equality and disaster management.

A multidisciplinary foundation underlies the career of Chairman de Leon. She obtained a Bachelor of Arts degree in Social Work from the University of the Philippines. She continued with a grant from the Queen Isabella Foundation Scholarship, which enabled her to earn a Master's degree in the same field from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. To supplement her social work studies, she enrolled under a USAID-NEDA grant, and successfully completed a Master's degree in Public Health at the University of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, United States. At present, she is working for her doctoral degree in Public Administration from the University of the Philippines.

Apart from her governmental involvement, she is also actively into various volunteer activities. Her more notable engagements include the chairmanship of the Membership Committee of the Girl Scouts of the Philippines and the Paranaque Development Foundation. She is also the President of the International Social Service Philippines Foundation, the Philippine Association of Technical Assistance Participants (PATAP) and a member of the Board of the World Association of Psychosocial Rehabilitation and the Board of Trustees of the Development Academy of the Philippines.

Chairman de Leon was recently awarded the Most Distinguished Alumna of the University of the Philippines for the year 2000.
